English Language Arts testing at Open High School was, unfortunately, the only area of 2011-12 testing from which valid inferences may be made, as the sample size for all other tests and Providers was too small to allow these to stand as reliable estimates of student performance attributable to this Provider. USOE cannot, at this time, report additional Provider CRT data; it is anticipated that this will change in the upcoming year, and future reports may be expected to provider substantially more information of this variety.*
