- Since 1928, millions of agriculture students have donned the official FFA blue jacket and championed the FFA creed.
- Today, FFA remains committed to making a positive difference in the lives of young people by developing their potential for premier leadership, personal growth, and career success through agricultural education.
- FFA brings relevance to the classroom through industry-based competitive events and community service.
- With 760,495 student members, FFA has a definite impact on students' overall college and career readiness.

"The National FFA Organization is so much more than a mere 'club'. To members across America, it's a life changing opportunity that opens doors to lifelong friendships, leadership skills, travel, and career readiness. Members serve, earn, and lead others into a new era in agriculture. As the number one student-run organization in the world, FFA has impacted so many, including myself, both in and outside of the classroom!"

GOALS

Utah FFA Goals for 2023-2024:

1. Make a positive impact on all members.
2. 100% chapter visit attendance at requested FFA events.
3. Implement strategies to make area officers more effective.

SERVICE

“Digging into our local agriculture” is the movement the State FFA officers are encouraging FFA members to focus on, so they can appreciate their local economy and industries, and help others become more literate in agriculture.

In 2023, Utah FFA members provided more than 17,000 hours of community service.

TEACHING

FFA members regularly visit elementary schools to teach children about agriculture. Every September, FFA sponsors the Little Hands on the Farm exhibit at the Utah State Fair, where volunteers teach children where food comes from—farm to grocery store.

Learning by Doing. Growing by Leading.

FFA members actively engage in supervised agricultural experiences (SAEs) that range from aquaculture to wildlife management. Members participate in career and leadership development events and challenges. Those interested in science and research compete in local, state, and national agriscience fairs. No matter how members engage, the interests they find, or the relationships they form, the FFA experience changes their perception of and appreciation for agriculture, for life.
