

Effective Teachers in High Poverty Schools (ETHPS)

History

Beginning in 2017:

The ETHPS, Utah Code 53F-2-513, was created in the 2017 Legislative General Session to provide an annual salary bonus for an eligible teacher who is employed in a high poverty school, a full school year before the school year they are considered eligible, and has a median growth percentile (MGP) of 70 or higher in a course for which a standards assessment is administered. The ETHPS provides qualifying teachers a $5,000 salary supplement. The Utah State Board of Education (USBE) determines if a teacher and school are eligible, then an application and list of eligible teachers are sent to the local education agency (LEA) administrators for review. The LEA where the eligible teacher is employed applies for this bonus on behalf of the teacher. When the LEA's completed application and assurances are received by USBE, the actual award amount for each participating teacher is calculated. USBE provides half the funds to the LEA with the LEA paying the other half up to the $5,000 bonus amount. The bonus amount may be reduced depending on the number of participants and/or the amount of funding approved by the Legislature.

In addition to the $5,000 salary adjustment, the Legislature appropriated funding to cover the employer-paid benefit costs associated with Social Security and Medicare. Qualifying teachers that receive the supplement are required to pay all personal payroll deductions as they do with their standard based salary.

USBE certifies the list of eligible teachers and the amount of their salary supplement, the list is then provided to the State Division of Finance for payment through a Monthly Allotment to the LEAs. The Division of Finance electronically transfers funding to the LEA at the end of the payment cycle.

2019-2020:

Starting FY 2020 through HB107, the Legislature increased the annual salary bonus to $7,000 and added teachers of grades 1, 2, or 3 who achieve at least 85% of students whose progress is assessed as typical or better. Additional funds of $482,200 were allocated to handle the increase in participants and salary bonus amount. The amendments would have been included in the 2020-2021 payments, however, due to budget cuts the additional funds were repealed in HB5012, which removed the ability of USBE to include the changes. Also, during this fiscal year, the annual student assessments were canceled due to the SARS-cov-2 pandemic that will prevent the payment of this bonus in the 2021-2020 program year because there will be no assessment data.
